

The era of the princes the sequel

Tribal kingdoms Berhanu's style

I start with a question; do we expect to be liberated by a group which is coordinated by Shabia, financed by Woyanie and advertised by Ethiopian Review and Ethiomedia? Do we? The daily drama of the Woyanie trained "opposition" soldiers continues from dawn to dusk. With the ethnic orchestra playing in high swing, such Woyanie actors extraordinaire like Berhanu Nega and Andargachew Tsige took the stage. Of course it will be told "yes those were the days when wolves in sheep skin roam the earth"; as their best drama ever recorded and stored for coming generation future story telling sessions. Berhanu and Andy the slick advertised their meeting in a DC hotel and they want everyone to come with their checkbook and listen to the wisdom of the leader. For the duo, the large public is like a ball they can kick left and right at will without any hesitation. They may also think by just lying and swearing we can accept their deceit, but for an observer that is not the case on the ground. The public responded many times criticizing them harshly or may I say reject them like it did to Lidetu Ayalew -another trickster who according to many is directly working for the Woyanie group. Genuine politicians who can read the public's mind would have changed their method when they see the fed up attitude of the same public they want to represent. But the duo never cares about the public in front of them, why? Because they are working for someone else, they are hired gun without their own ideology to follow except what the pay master's tells them to follow. They don't care if the public ignores them, they just keep at it by changing their color, one day they come as paid thinkers at a mountain top next day as ethnic liberators and Amara haters at the same time. This by itself is not only outrageous, they also don't even think twice before they speak in front of us as if we are all dead or deaf or they may have thought of us as people under hypnosis who doesn't even remember what they did to us in the previous few months. Every time they come out and open their mouth the public ignores them or for that matter told them "we don't want people like you who works with our enemy against our country" do they listen? No, they assume the public as a static being that can not add one plus one and come up with the answer, according to them the public will accept whatever they tell it, even being a Shabia an anti-Ethiopian entity agent is not a consequence to them. Even though our tricksters have no wide public base, I admit they have a few followers who either follow by ethnic affiliation and or by the money they push. One thing any person who loves Ethiopia shouldn't forget is not to take this people as simply a nuisance in the struggle to free Ethiopia. Berhanu and Andargachew are not by themselves powerful enough to scare us but we should be aware of the power and money flowing behind them either from Woyanie or other foreign enemies. People should also be aware how the duo revives themselves when we think they are dead. Take for example how their latest meeting in DC Marriott is dramatized. Please take a note of their meeting date and Woyanie's timely accusation of them a week before their meeting in DC. Is it by coincidence or design? Yes indeed all this is part of the plan, Woyanie knows it has to strengthen the so called G7 base where the large public rejected and abandoned after it has been exploited and sold for pennies. Woyanie called G7 the biggest enemy with groups in the army trying to overthrow sorry to assassinate officials and create havoc. The public is watching the drama with amusement, what G7? I don't believe it? Well so do I. We have to know the truth even if that truth is bitter and we don't want to talk about it. The truth is like Woyanie the so called G7 is using ethnicity as a spring board. People may say why am I bringing ethnicity here and my answer is, because it is the truth and the truth is the only way to solve our problem. I am not saying that Berhanu as a Gurage represents the decent good Ethiopian Guragies, not at all but he is trying to use them and he did use some of them by turning them against their brothers just to make himself rich. I do not think he gives a damn about any Gurage as he doesn't give a damn about Ethiopia. It doesn't matter how immorally or illegally they get it, Woyanies only believe in money that is their god they worship, as a good student follows his teacher's work so does the G7 people like Berhanu, Birhane and Andargachew. Remember the fiasco after the 2005 election, they went around and grabbed as much as they could by methods no real Ethiopian would use. For example Berhanu directly went out of his way to instill his being there is the only way for gurages to become leaders in Ethiopia. Am I mistaken here? Not at all, please find the flyer that was distributed in Addis Ababa with a picture of a distinct gurage hut (gojo) right before kinjit's split. Later on in USA and Europe he personally pushed the idea that there will be a gurage king in Minilik's palace and all gurages should contribute to make it so. It was and still is an underground ethnic separation movement by him for the purpose of using them to share power with woyanies. For all this he has to have an enemy and there is an already labeled enemy called Amara. For a friend he also has a foreign agent and a certified Amara hater called Andargachew Tsige - a person who also leans towards his Oromo OPDO side than the country that fed him all his life. I will give Berhanu his due credit, as the best trickster he sold his ethnic kingdom idea to some naive people and they actually believed him. Some of them turn against Amara overnight; some shouted yes it is our turn.

I will give you an example; this is an observation by a friend of mine who was in one of Berhanu's meeting with his diaspora bunch..

".....and after his (Berhanu) inaccurate speech and Amara bashing they came back to their main point, that is to the money collection. After a while they start calling people's name announcing who contributed and how much, some were called Mr. X $100, Ms. Y $200, as it continued all of a sudden when this young lady's name was called there was a single high pitched voice it was from that young woman whom I know work as a simple maid, she stopped the announcer and told him to give her back the check she wrote, surprised the announcer gave her back the check written by her she turn around look for a table to write on and wrote a new check for two hundred dollars." Why was she shouting? I asked my friend. You see he answered with a smile "Berhanu the arada sold his ethnic kingdom idea to the bone and this poor lady was embarrassed by writing a 50 dollar check that she had no idea it will be announced for everyone to know. Once she realized that her friends name was called and hers will be next, she has to stop the announcer before he mentioned the old amount to the audience and has to change it to 200 so she can be remembered as the fighter gurage lady who made the ethnic kingdom possible. In a way she was trying to not be different from her own kind in the time of need for the making of Ethnic kingdom with Berhanu as their king".

This is a true story happened here in USA during the fiasco days after the past election. Berhanu was out there recruiting by ethnic group, including the other X-EPRP faction leader turned into ethnicist. The sad thing in all this drama is that Guragies like everyone else in Ethiopia had a king and his name was Hailesellase I, but again Berhanu would not breathe this truth and the poor lady has to be cheated twice. Oh by the way did I mention that friend of mine himself was from the Gurage ethnic group? Yes he was.

Who said “I hate the sin but love the sinner” yes it was Mahatma Gandhi but for Berhanu and colleagues it is the other way around, they love the sin and the sinner at the same time. In one of his flip flopping days, in the flip side in a London meeting he said “I am not fighting for Amaras” with more Amara bashing of course. On the flop side in the latest DC Marriott meeting he again said “Woyanie is purging Amaras from the army” which is it Doc? Is Berhanu fighting for the same Amaras that he hates and used to collect money from others? How can one reconcile these two opposing statements? “I hate Amaras because woyanie hates them and I love them when woyanie puts them in jail” The idea that one who hates the other will fight to free the same group he hates is by itself a twisted logic that can only be observed in babies land. I am amazed by these guys flip-flopping action but again this is the Berhanu’s arada way.

I have no doubt in my mind that Woyanie and Ginbot 7 work in tandem. They are helping each other. I mentioned in many of my previous articles that woyanie knows its enemy and is always scared of that enemy. It doesn’t like it to grow or expand or do anything and as much as possible woyanie is out there to destroy that enemy. That enemy is Ethiopian nationalism and the nationalists themselves. Therefore, As far as the Ethiopian public is concerned the so called G7 is a dead meat but the focus was directly on Woyanie. Woyanie has to redirect all the opposing public energy somewhere else in a safe place with safe keepers such as the tribal G7, Lidetu’s EDP or Birtukan’s UDJ - with odor that strongly smells like Woyanie. Thus, since Berhanu and his so called G7 group have no wide public base, Woyanie had to come and play its part in this latest drama of G7. Woyanie Accuses G7 of plotting to overthrow the government, as a bonus they also threw a few Amara military men to jail and call them collaborators. Folks, I have no sympathy for people who sold their soul to work with woyanies, those accused be it Amara or Oromo deserve to be in that jail. I only fight and feel sorry for the innocent Ethiopian thus, Woyane’s military men being in jail is not an important factor for me.

In this elaborated drama who benefit and who doesn’t? As mock fighters Berhanu and Andargachew will have their day again in DC Marriott, in their way they will get the innocent few ethnic followers to contribute their hard earn money for the duo’s dance festival. But the biggest beneficiary is woyanie. How? Woyanie as I mentioned earlier will redirect the public follower towards G7 at least for the time being by giving them false hope that G7 is as strong as an organization that can overthrow woyanie and push them away from the true nationalist organizations and dry their support (you can’t blame woyanie for dreaming). Second, woyanie’s army is trying to come out of its hypnosis existence and woyanie has to purge the few that came out and realized what happened to their country. Yes indeed woyanie who is trying to use one stone to kill two birds has to be the beneficiary.

In conclusion I say this, people cannot live in a country where only a single group of people are selected and labeled as enemies by others not only once but copied and used by others more. I wonder what the response will be when people are pushed beyond the limit. It is just a question to ponder with.

Forever Ethiopia
